

Laughing in the Face of Death:

Funny Films for Funeral Planning

In honor of the Frozen Dead Guy Days festival in nearby Nederland, Carroll-Lewellen Funeral & Cremation Services is hosting Laughing in the Face of Death: Funny Films for Funeral Planning. This free upbeat talk in the funeral home's chapel features popcorn, beverages, door prizes, and clips from comedy films and television programs. It's what you need to know before you go!

Walter (John Goodman) and The Dude (Jeff Bridges) prepare to scatter the ashes of their friend Donnie (in coffee can) in Joel and Ethan Coen's The Big Lebowski (2005).

The presenter is Gail Rubin, CT, a Certified Thanatologist (a death educator) and popular speaker who uses humor and films to start end-of-life conversations. Known as the Doyenne of Death[®], her motto is, "Talking about sex won't make you pregnant, and talking about funerals won't make you dead."

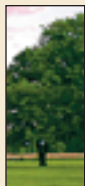

We're dying to see you there!

Thursday, March 10

Starting at 6:30 p.m.

At Carroll-Lewellen Funeral & Cremation Services
503 Terry Street, Longmont, CO

RSVP: Send an email to familyfuneralplans@gmail.com

Carroll-Lewellen
Funeral & Cremation Services
Foothills Gardens of Memory

Questions?

Call Bob Sweeney at Carroll-Lewellen's offices 303-776-0202
or Gail Rubin at 505-363-7514 (cell)